Summary

Project Status Summary
Work on the project has been started, and currently, 40% of the project is completed. The customer interface has been fully coded and is operational, almost meeting the expected functionality. Everything is progressing as planned and reported in the project plan for Sprint 4. There were some complications regarding the technology stack, which required changes. These adjustments were necessary to align with project requirements and ensure smooth implementation. The only aspect that has not gone according to the project plan is the development of the service provider and admin interfaces. These were expected to be 30% complete by now, but due to unexpected setbacks, development has not yet started. Efforts are being made to address these issues and get back on track in the upcoming sprints. Despite minor setbacks, the project is making steady progress, and the team remains on track to complete the remaining work efficiently. The next sprint will focus on catching up on delayed tasks to meet the project timeline.
